- Little 'Explorers' can have the adventure of a lifetime this summer at Belfast Zoo's Explorers' Club! Little explorers can discover the wonderful world of animals through a five day programme of animal encounters, behind the scenes access, orienteering, crafts (including making bird boxes and feeders), pond dipping, mist netting to learn more about native birds and den building at the explorers' base camp, before roasting marshmallows beside the camp fire. Zoo education officer, John Fisher, said "If your little ones fancy giving Tina the elephant a bath, helping the keepers feed the bongos, sea lions and giraffes, building enrichment for the carnivores and learning more about wildlife this summer, then this is the club for them!" The Explorers' Club is open to children aged 7 to 12. Each club is £150 and runs for five days, from 9.30am to 3.30pm, on the following dates:

4 to 8 July,                      25 to 29 July,                      1 to 5 August,
